Principal investigators are reminded that in applying for Federal awards, the present overhead rates are valid only through June 30, 1982. President Saxon has asked that as of March 15, 1982 proposals reflect the rates currently under review by the Federal Government.

Proposal budgets should be completed only through the direct cost total. The Office of Extramural Support will fill in the indirect cost line if necessary, before submission to the agency to reflect indirect cost rates proposed by the University and under consideration by the Federal Government.

A general campus announcement of the 1982-83 rates will be made at the conclusion of negotiations.

A UC Consortium on Mexico and the US (UC MEXUS) has been established at UCLA. This interdisciplinary program of research, instruction and public service will coordinate all Mexico programs on UC's nine campuses.

James W. Wilke, professor of history at UCLA, has been selected as University-wide coordinator of the program.

At present UC MEXUS is developing research, teaching and exchange programs in four areas: Mexican studies, US/Mexican relations, Chicano studies and physical or life sciences as they focus on Mexico.

For further information write UC MEXUS, 1201 Campbell Hall, UCLA, Los Angeles, 90024, or call (213) 206-8500.

Stanford's Lane Medical Library is holding a book sale on Tuesday, April 13 at the Sherman Fairchild Auditorium Lobby, Stanford. The sale is comprised of material donated to the library which will be offered to the medical community at considerably reduced prices: 8 a.m.-noon, $2; 12:30-4 p.m., $1; special items and rare books will be individually priced. For further information call 497-6401.

A unique symposium on "Psychotherapy and Law Enforcement: Issues and Techniques" will be held Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel.

The symposium's goals are: 1) to give mental health workers a better understanding of the unique culture in which police officers operate and of specific techniques that work best in helping them; 2) to help police administrators become more knowledgable consumers of local mental health services, and better able to start programs and choose professionals that can address the needs of their officers.

The conference is sponsored by the Department of Psychiatry and the S.F. Police Department.

Included in the symposium will be discussions on reactions to the traumatic situations with which the police deal, vocational hazards of police work and a special session on clinicians' concerns about "cops" and officers' concerns about "shrinks."

For further information call x2894.

All faculty and staff who have questions concerning the new dental insurance plan offered by Aetna Life Insurance Company can call (800) 742-1975, toll free, for information.

DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, which will cover the period Apr. 24 to May 7, will be Tuesday, Apr. 13, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 532 Parnassus Ave., x1541 or x2557.

UCSF will participate in a city-wide disaster exercise on Wednesday, April 21. Organized by the S.F. Office of Emergency Services, the Health Department and the West Bay Hospital Conference, the drill commemorates the Great Quake of 1906 and tests how prepared S.F. hospitals are in responding to an actual disaster. Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City also will participate.

The disaster assumes an earthquake of 8.3 on the Richter scale has happened along the San Andreas Fault causing massive human losses, extensive structural damage to the city of San Francisco and injuring thousands.

UCSF's participation in the drill will begin at 11 a.m., when "Operation Triage," the hospital disaster plan, will be implemented. Approximately 150 to 175 "victims" will arrive at Moffitt Hospital. The victims are community volunteers "moulaged" to look like actual casualties and instructed to act the part of someone injured to make the training exercise more realistic. In addition, another 50 to 75 volunteers will pose as distraught family members who will descend on the Public Receiving Area in the Millberry Union Lounges.

During Operation Triage, victims will be assessed and sorted in the Medical Sciences lobby, according to their prognosis and medical problems. The majority of casualties will be triaged to areas within Moffitt. Casualties judged "minor" will be sent to the Ambulatory Care Center, and those "severely disturbed" to LPPI. Part of Moffitt cafeteria will be used as a holding area for victims awaiting X-ray, surgery, admission or discharge.

The drill, although exciting to watch, is a serious training exercise determining how prepared the entire campus is during an emergency. Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to serve as victims or in a number of other capacities. Please

The UC Regents have approved the naming of the surgical floor of the new Joseph M. Long Hospital as the "Francis A. Sooy, MD, Surgical Pavilion." The request was made by Mr. Long, principal benefactor of the new hospital which is named after him.

Long presented the campus with a $2,500,000 gift four years ago, followed by a $780,000 gift in June of last year in honor of Dr. Sooy, who is stepping down as chancellor in June of this year to continue his work as a teacher and surgeon on the faculty.

The new surgical floor, which will be the most modern in the Bay Area, will have 19 operating rooms — some especially designed for heart surgery and neurosurgery. The floor has a 32-bed recovery unit and a self-contained processing area for supplies. The Sooy Pavilion is expected to be in full operation by December, 1982.

Other facilities named by the campus and approved by the Regents include: a treatment/conference room in the Pediatrics Service in honor of Joseph and Stephanie Koret, co-founders of the Koret Foundation; a family waiting area in the Herbst Emergency Service in honor of the Crocker National Bank Foundation; a family waiting area in the Physical Medicine Department in honor of the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company Foundation; and a diagnostic procedures suite in the Adolph A. Kutzmann Urology Service in honor of the Harvey L. and Maud C. Sorensen Foundation.

NEWS BRIEFS

call the Volunteer Office at x1196 if you can donate any time to this campus-wide drill.

A special preview program entitled "Disaster! Are You Ready?" will be held on Thursday, April 15 in Cole Hall at noon. This will acquaint UCSF staff, students and faculty on the roles and responsibilities in caring for disaster victims.

The UCSF Disaster Plan was originally developed by the UCSF Disaster Committee headed by John Conte, chief of Infectious Diseases. Disaster Drill coordinator is Hiroshi Tokubo, assistant director of Hospitals and Clinics.

Hospitals and Clinics will observe National Hospital Week May 9 to 15 with a special eight-page newspaper which will feature people in various departments and divisions performing "behind the scenes" tasks with which most employees are unfamiliar. The theme, "You've Got a Friend in the Hospital," will be developed in the paper, which will go to all employees through campus mail.

Photos of these departments also will be used for special exhibits in both Moffitt and Medical Sciences lobbies.

In addition, tours of the "hidden" hospital departments will be given to all interested people. A schedule of the tours will be listed in the paper. For further information on Hospital Week contact Patricia Wizeman at x1401.

That same week, Nurse Appreciation Month will be observed by Nursing Services. A display will be exhibited adjacent to the Hospitals and Clinics display in the Medical Sciences lobby, and a small paper will be printed to describe activities of the week. Nursing Services will acknowledge contributions made by the entire nursing staff by serving refreshments to day and night nurses and placing flowers on each nursing unit.

In addition, a button contest was recently held in hopes of finding a suitable phrase to capture the spirit of nursing at UCSF. Winner of the contest will receive a Millberry Union membership or dinner for two at a San Francisco restaurant. For further information contact Linda Purves at x2252.

All UCSF Hospitals and Clinics volunteers will be honored at a celebration on Thursday, April 22 at University House. The Volunteer Office is proclaiming the week of April 19 as "Volunteers–Our Greatest Natural Resource" Week.

Robert H. Crede, MD, associate dean, Academic Affairs and professor, Medicine, has been appointed acting dean, School of Medicine, effective July 1. Julius R. Krevans, MD, will take over the chancellorship at that time.

A search committee headed by Robert A. Fishman, is presently looking for a new dean. Other members of the committee are: Bruce M. Alberts, Biochemistry; David W. Allen, Psychiatry; Leslie Z. Benet, Pharmaceutical Chemistry; J. Michael Bishop, Microbiology/Hooper Foundation; Carol Copperud, SEC; Carroll Estes, Social and Behavioral Sciences, School of Nursing; David Friscia, ASUC, School of Medicine; John Greene, School of Dentistry; Moses Grossman, Pediatrics; Zach Hall, Physiology/Neurosciences; Richard J. Havel, CVRI; Allen H. Jonson, Alumni-Faculty Association, School of Medicine; William B. Kerr, Hospitals and Clinics; Lloyd M. Kozloff, Graduate Division; Marion Nestle, School of Medicine, Dean's Office; Abraham Rudolph, Pediatrics; Luis Vasconez, Surgery; Susan Wall, Radiology; John A. Watson, Biochemistry; and David Werdegar, Family and Community Medicine.

A search committee has also been established to fill the position of Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Shirley Chater, PhD, is taking a one-year education leave, and will then return to the School of Nursing.

Headed by John Starkweather, Medical Psychology, other members include: Amy Eisenfeld, GSA; Virginia Ernster, Epidemiology; Newton Gordon, School of Dentistry; Robert Jaffe, Ob/Gyn; Bertram Katzung and Irwin Kuntz, both Pharmaceutical Chemistry; Joseph Kushner, Pediatrics; Rudi Schmid, Medicine; Joseph Spinelli, Animal Care Facility; Margretta Styles, School of Nursing; and Jaclyne Witte, Biochemistry/Biophysics.

The Night Security Shuttle now operates daily 5 p.m. to 2 a.m. from one main pick-up point at Moffitt Hospital Circle every 10 minutes. Individuals can arrange for special pick up at LPPI, the School of Dentistry building and other campus areas by calling x1414.

The shuttle continues to transport people to the garage, public transit stops, homes and parked cars within the area bordered by Clarendon, Clayton, Golden Gate Park and Ninth Avenue.

The man who helped save the lives of thousands of Rh babies is being honored with the establishment of the Louis K. Diamond, MD, Chair in Hematology.

Diamond, who came to UCSF in 1968, is adjunct professor of Pediatrics and research associate, Cancer Research Institute. Among his accomplishments, he was one of the first to identify iron deficiency as an important cause of anemia in children, define a crucial congenital disorder of red cell development, and describe Rh incompatibility and develop a neonatal transfusion procedure that has saved the lives of thousands of newborns.

The half-million dollar chair will support a professor of hematology at UCSF in both teaching and research. Half of this money has already been contributed by former patients, friends, and former students of Diamond, Chancellor Sooy said.

Research efforts in hematology at UCSF, many of which Diamond has stimulated, focus on red blood cells and their abnormalities in many blood diseases.

A laser videodisc playback unit has recently been donated to Educational Media Resources (EMR) by Miles Pharmaceuticals, according to Peter Ng, director, EMR.

The system, the latest in video technology, is available for use in the Self-Instructional Media Area (SIMA), HSE 345. It consists of a laser videodisc playback unit, TV monitor and a series of 12-inch videodiscs on medical topics that will be provided on a regular basis by Miles. Each disc provides up to 54 minutes of programming which may be stopped at any point for study by the viewer.

SIMA has a variety of programs available including slide banks from the American Society of Hematology and the World Health Organization International Histologic Classification of Tumors, as well as trauma training materials and programs on red cell shapes in disease, venipuncture and emergency appendectomy for acute appendicitis.

For further information contact Bill Bargagliotti or Lynn Kelly at x4309 or visit SIMA at HSE 345.

A special two-hour program on scientific writing and publishing for all junior faculty, graduate students and postdoctoral fellows will be held on Wednesday, April 21 in HSW 301 from 3 to 5 p.m.

Several distinguished researchers, writers and editors will share their insights on many of the problems and opportunities facing investigators who prepare manuscripts for submission to scientific journals or publishers. Areas explored will include: choosing the "right" journal, determining whom to include on the list of authors, selecting and designing the graphics, planning how many papers can be generated from the data and deciding on whether to print quick notes or wait for a major paper.

The program is sponsored by the Equal Opportunity Committee of the Academic Senate and the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. For further information and to register call x1881.

Malcolm D. Jendresen, DDS, has been appointed chair of the Department of Restorative Dentistry, School of Dentistry. Jendresen served as chair of the Division of Biomaterials since 1967 and Assistant Dean for Research since 1972.

Jendresen received his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree from the Marquette University School of Dentistry in 1961 and the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Lund, Faculty of Odontology in Sweden, 1980. He has held teaching and research appointments in the schools of Dentistry at Marquette University, UCSF and University of Lund.

Nutrition and Dietetics now is providing complete disposable service for all take out food. It is hoped this will help campus sanitation, pest control and reduce the number of dishes and trays missing from the cafeteria. Anyone who takes food out of the cafeteria should use disposable plastic flatware, paper dishes and trays. Disposable trays are provided at the take out tables in both cafeterias.

A new once-a-month evening lecture series for the scientific and research staff at SFGH began on April 7. Sponsored by the Associate Dean's Office and the Gladstone Foundation Laboratories, the lectures feature guest speakers from the Bay Area scientific community.

Programs are held the first Wednesday of each month at Gladstone, Building 40, fourth floor conference room. The lecture begins at 6:30 and is preceded by an informal buffet supper at 6 p.m. Fee for the supper is $3. A reception concludes each program.

Future lecturers include George R. Stark, PhD, Department of Biochemistry, Stanford, who will speak on May 5 on "Studies on the Structure of Amplified DNA in Drug Resistant Mammalian Cells." On June 2, Daniel E. Koshland, Jr., PhD, Department of Biochemistry, UC-Berkeley, will discuss "Covalent Control in Metabolic and Sensing Systems."

The lecture series selection committee includes: Ira Goldstein, MD, Michael Humphreys, MD, David Phillips, PhD, Stanley Rall, PhD and John Taylor, PhD.

Those planning to attend these lectures are asked to contact Pamela Jones at 826-7500.

Openings are still available for individuals interested in self-defense workshops. They are held every Saturday, May 1 to June 5, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The fee is $5 for the campus community and $25 general.

In addition, the next scheduled tear gas certification classes being offered are: Tuesday, April 13, 9 a.m. to noon; Wednesday, May 12, 5 to 8 p.m. and Thursday, June 3, noon to 3 p.m. The fee is $7 for the campus community.
